

The SAS Law School

International Refugee Law

This is to certify that student:

A Other

has passed our three part International Refugee Law course and has insight and understanding of the following areas:-

International legislation and policy relating to the protection and integration of refugees.

How refugee legislation relates to other international human rights legislation.

The need to analyse domestic refugee laws and policies against international refugee law standards.

John Carter

Training Director

J Hunte

Training Administrator

Date: 2.August.2006

